About NACBHDD

NACBHDD is the only national voice for county and local behavioral health and developmental disability authorities in Washington, DC. Through education, policy analysis and advocacy, NACBHDD brings the unique perspective of our members to Congress and the Executive Branch. NACBHDD promotes national policies that recognize and support the critical role counties play in caring for people affected by mental illness, addiction, and developmental disabilities.

NACBHDD is an active partner in efforts to improve access to, funding for, and quality of behavioral health services, especially those that serve the most vulnerable in our communities. Key issues include: protecting Medicaid coverage, ending the stigma of mental illness, better treatment for veterans, achieving parity in insurance coverage for behavioral health care, affordable housing and vocational training for those with mental illness or developmental disabilities, and many more.

A NACBHDD membership is a valuable tool to help you to adapt to changes. Networking with other NACBHDD members is a major benefit; learning new strategies from other counties and state associations.

Since 2013 we have continued to increase our partnering activities with the National Association of Counties (NACo). We plan to continue and expand those endeavors and more into the future.
